

Our McQueen 1964 ISDT bike takes shape

In this issue of Motolegends, you may well read that we are launching Barbour's return to motorcycling, with a new A7 International that comes complete with armour.

The jacket, and matching trousers, are available now, but we'll be showing them for the first time at the Stafford Classic Bike show in April.

Well, to celebrate this exciting new collection, we've had our friends at Ace Classics in South London make a stitch perfect replica of McQueen's famous Triumph TR6 SC.

Everything from his siamese exhaust and special handlebars to the rear wheel quick release and air cylinder will be exactly as per Steve's famous 278 bike.

If you want to see it, come and visit us at Stafford.

New Five gloves from France

At the recent Indianapolis motorcycle show, somewhat ironically, we came across a terrific new brand of French gloves called Five.

One review we read suggested that Five gloves were better quality than Dainese, used better leather than Alpinestars and were better priced than Spidi.

All we know is that the quality is excellent, with triple layered Spandex, military grade Cordura and Pittards' finest leathers.

The fit also seems to be brilliant. Everyone in the office from the daintiest butterfly to the most gorilla-like has tried them on and, in all cases, the proportions seemed perfect!

These gloves are something else. We don't believe there are many people in the UK offering these gloves, so if you're looking for exclusivity as well as quality, see the range at www.motolegends.com/five

The cheapest prices guaranteed on all helmets. Guaranteed!

We don't sell every helmet brand. But we have chosen what we consider to be the best and most interesting names in the business.

There's Schuberth, Shark, AGV, Bell, Premier and Roof.

The entire ranges from all these makers are up on our site and, as with all motorcycle clothing, the helmets are priced at the manufacturers' recommended prices.

But, if you find any helmet from any of our brands discounted in a shop, on a website, on Amazon, or on eBay, we will beat the price on that helmet by a further 10%.

The offer is as simple as that. If you want to know exactly how it all works, visit www.motolegends.com/pricebeat

We probably don't need to tell you; this is a great offer. In recent weeks, we've supplied clothing, helmets and accessories to our customers at prices that are below the prices we paid for them.

Lucky customers. Unlucky us, but so be it.

Test it out. We give the best service. And now we're the cheapest too. That's guaranteed.
